Sept. 27, 2016 panel discussion
Blum Center grants - RIFA fellowships - Trellis Fund projects
UC Davis

Impact Abroad

Hear from grad students about their international development experiences, with opportunities from three different campus programs.

Trellis Fund projects through the Horticulture Innovation Lab

Graduate students partner with organizations in developing countries to work on horticulture projects, with 2-3 weeks of travel. Apply by November 4, 2016.

horticulture.ucdavis.edu/main/trellis.html

Research and Innovation Fellowships for Agriculture (RIFA)

2-6 month fellowships for graduate students on food systems in developing countries or biodiversity/ecology in the Brazilian Amazon. Applications close in February.

ip.ucdavis.edu/what/rifa

PASS & PATA grants from UC Davis Blum Center for Developing Economies

Travel, research or hands-on fieldwork grants available for graduate students and undergraduate students. Application deadlines in February and March 2017.

blumcenter.ucdavis.edu/

TUESDAY
Sept. 27
12 p.m. – 1:30 p.m.
PES Room 3001

Find out how to apply.
Hear from grad student panelists.
Open Q&A.